CHAPTER 2

The party arrive

In less than two months from the time that Clamfield sent out the last ship two of the ships from Black Prohibitory were wrecked in a storm soon after their starting. There were one hundred and one men counting in those who were wrecked and rescued and counting in those who had been left there were one hundred and one. David Blog was elected president of this colony. They named this new land Clamfield's Land. Blog was the one who discovered it. But David Blog turned out to be a man that they did not want as a president for he pocketed all the money that belonged to the colony and cheated the people every time he had a chance till the people were heartily sick of him but they could not get rid of him with out an order from the government so a man named Holt sent in a petition to Black Archipelago that they might have a new president, and telling how David Blue was acting so well morning a large fine ship sailed in to harbor and Jim Jinks and several others came ashore Jim Jinks ordered that David Blue be hung for that was what they did with Miller in that time. So he with a body of soldiers started for David's house when they got near to it they were fired on by the guards but they were put to rout and Jim Jinks entered but no David was to be seen but as one of the men looked out of the window he saw David Blue going off across the field for the forest so all the people went in pursuit of him. They followed him through the woods stumbling over logs and fallen logs and finally caught him climbing the very tree which he was holding when caught. On April 24 1820 Jim Jinks with a party of followers started out on an exploring trip they headed eastward straight over the mountain they had a hard climb going up and then they followed the valley as they went down as they were going down the other side four men were going down the other Jim's stopped a bit but a small stone house and left foot guns and some provisions for the sick men Jim went on and an old she bear attacked them and killed one man but she was killed and soon after several days march they came to the edge of the forest and saw stretching before them a vast plain of rolling grass, stretching away as far as eye could see but Jim Jinks made up his mind to cross it when they had got a little ways out a party of Indians attacked them Jim out of the grass a lot of arrows began to fly this excited Jim Jinks party and they started on the run for the Indians The Indians sprang up and with hard wood clubs and knives started for Jim Jinks party but the men club-
